And Now, A Word from Our Children...

Editor's Note: We asked some of our children to do some "reporting" around our HOINA campus, and these are the articles that they have written for you.

About Our Staff

by Ch. Revathy

I praise the Almighty God first of all because we are so happy to have these staffs in HOINA. We are so good to have these staffs as our parents. When we are sad, they come and share our feelings with them. Until today we don't feel that we are not having parents, but I think it just while I was writing this. But I won't feel sad about that because we do have our "parents." We have six staffs for our kitchen. They prepare for us very, very tasty and healthy food. We have kind dhobis to wash our clothes. They wash our clothes and keep us far away from germs. We have housemother to watch us safely.

We have two singing teachers, and we have singing class once in a week. They teach us beautiful songs and dances. We have one account manager and two general managers. They always help us in each and every manner. We have two staffs to prepare soymilk for us. We have three watchmans. They help us in day and night times without their sleep. We have five staffs in our cowshed to take care of our cows.

We have a staff to take care of our birds. We have nearly 40 staffs to take care of us. We praise the miraculous God for giving us this HOINA.

Our Housemother Indiramma

by J. Surya

I like Indiramma very much because no one will feel sad about their parents when we were with Indiramma. She is very helpful to every one. She is very great in my opinion. This is one example. One day Indiramma's brother came to HOINA and asked her to come back home with him and live with him. But our mother (Indira) told him, "How can I come by leaving my daughters?" Another incident that proves her greatness is about one handicapped girl from birth. She could not walk at all, even with surgeries. In that time Indiramma, our mother, made that girl do her exercises and applied oil daily to her legs. Now she can walk

(and run, jump, hop, and skip)! All will be happy in the presence of Indiramma and all treat her as their mother. So we love her very much.

HOINA's Manager, Bujji

by J. Priyanka

His name is Bujji. He is the good manager of HOINA. He help us when we are sick. When we have any problems then he face that problems. We don't know how to play the Bat's man in cricket but he teach us. He teach about science and computer. Manager and staff's taking care of children so we all are feel so happy. We love Mr. Bujji and staffs. Someday, I will become like Mr. Bujji to help the people in the villages. I will also become a doctor to save people – those people who are suffering from the health problem in villages.

Our Account Manager, Jani

by Ch. Revathy

It was a great thing that the Almighty God gave us a good account manager to HOINA. It is a big thing to deal with HOINA accounts, and Mr. Jani is really a good manager. In each and every thing like medical bills, stationary bills, kitchen goods bills, and everything that we use in HOINA he has to note it and should count it. It's really a job to do. He always is very friendly with us. He helps clear our doubts in our studies. Actually, we can't understand Hindi, and we used to have more doubts in Hindi. But because Mr. Jani knows Hindi language, he was a good teacher for us. He sometimes teaches us about how to use computer also. I praise the miraculous God for giving us a good account manager.

Our State, Andhra Pradesh

by Teja

When Indians were under the rule of the British, they were as the slave of India. At that time Gandhi raise the Indians with the slogan, "Do or die." It means all Indians rise up against the British to come from the Indian slavery. India has 28 states. Among those 28, Andhra Pradesh (A.P.) is one of the beautiful place. Among A.P.'s 23 districts, Visakhapatnam is one of the famous city. Visakhapatnam called as harbor ship. In Visakhapatnam, Kothavalasa Mandal, in Sunkarpalem Village there is huge, peaceful, beautiful, and clean home. This is called HOINA. In that home there is so many orphan children. They live happy and studying well, and get good marks, good name from school, college. They don't worry about their future because HOINA provided everything.

HOINA boys serving their community by doing roadside cleanup.

Later Mom cleaned the school and white washed and painted the school. Then boys are worked for police station for tiles work [mosaics] and cleaned the station. Our brothers work hard. They have done the tiles work in our house by their own creation. HOINA is great place to be.

Brothers looking for Sponsors

This month we feature two HOINA brothers for you to consider sponsoring. Maybe you'd like to sponsor one and your in-laws the other? Or two Sunday School classes at your church? Or your club or child's class at school as a service project? Feel free to return to our office your first monthly gift of $30 with the coupon on page three. If you'd like to sponsor them both, then just double your donation!

Joshi and Durga Mahesh Jammula came to HOINA on June 11, 2012. Their father had been an alcoholic who died in 2011 under suspicious circumstances. Their mother suffered with uterine cancer before she died in December of that same year. While their grandmother tried to care for the boys, she was unable to continue to do so because of her advanced age. She brought Joshi and his brother, Durga Mahesh to HOINA to ask us to care for them.

An eighth grader, Durga Mahesh was born on November 4, 1999. He likes tigers, the color black, and playing cricket. Someday he hopes to be a policeman. His younger brother, Joshi, was born on August 26, 2003. He is studying in the fifth grade at the local government school, where he is already planning on becoming a doctor when he is grown! He enjoys cricket and is fond of rabbits.
